20151. Field of the Invention The invention relates to tool boxes. 2. Prior Art With the advent of semi-automatic and automatic screw machines the need arose for a box that could be used to house screw and nut casings as they came off the screw machine. Such a tool box must have a sliding door or lid that is adapted to hold a screw or nut casing on a wheeled carriage, and there must be a mechanism to retract the door when the carriage is removed from the box.Who says a 10-mile run is too far? USAC driver Scott Schenck is ready to take on even the furthest of distances. On June 21, Schenck will attempt to drive his Mazda Miata "over" the Baja California Peninsula, from San Felipe, Mexico, to Ensenada, Mexico. The run is part of a charity effort sponsored by the Baja Motorsports Association. "I have about 20 different sponsors that are donating to me, so I have no idea how much of a challenge this will be for me," Schenck said. The journey begins on June 1 with Schenck and a companion driving from San Felipe to Ensenada and returning through Tijuana. The team will make several stops along the way to put their Miata in various cars for the ensuing 23-hour ride. The Miata is a highly modified race car that Schenck has been driving for a couple of years. The team made modifications to the car to increase the ground clearance and to improve the air-cooling system. Schenck says it has a "pretty good" chance of making it to Mexico. So far Schenck has made it over New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and parts of Massachusetts. Each run has been a little more challenging than the last. On the drive from New Jersey to New York, Schenck was running with a passenger on his way to his next destination in Virginia when his engine gave out. Since the passenger was unharmed, Schenck took a break to make a couple of stops in New Jersey. To keep it fun, Schenck decided to run the car at 80 mph, the speed limit on all New Jersey streets. "The first couple of hours of the drive were a lot of fun because I was able to be really reckless," Schenck said. While
